Description

Weighing just over 200 kilograms, the LineEraser is robust and stable.

And with two front wheels and two swiveling rear wheels, it is remarkably easy to maneuver for its weight.

In terms of performance, the LineEraser can remove about 200 meters per hour for road markings 1 millimeter thick and 200 millimeters wide.

The Borum® LineEraser is compact and easy to maneuver. A double belt drives the cutter head, which is equipped with three knives.

- To remove thin coatings (e.g. cold paint marks), use the 48-pin carbide blade.
- For removing thicker coatings (e.g. thermoplastic), use the 24-pin carbide knife.

Working width: Up to 25 cm (10 in.)

Engine: Briggs & Stratton, 13.5 hp (10 Kw).

Includes head with 3 x 24 pins with carbide cutting edges
